Ever thought about teaching but hesitate because you are an artist, not a teacher? Are you an experienced teacher who seeks new ways to help students learn?

This workshop is about learning to teach effectively and with confidence. We will learn how to give feedback to students in a way guaranteed to help them learn and refine their skills in a safe, supportive and fun environment. We will discuss course objectives, course preparation, pacing and anything else you'd like to discuss. This course is adapted, with Betty Locke's help, from a course used to teach courtroom skills to lawyers. As Betty says, teaching one art is the same as teaching another.....

This workshop is for those who have not yet taught and those who have, whether just once, ten times or ten times ten. There will be some pre-course work. We will laugh while learning. You may ask for a refund if not satisfied!

TO TEACH
IS TO LEARN TWICE
